15. The draw is intended as a bit of fun for Gospel Green followers. Given the relatively moderate value of prize/s and the risk of exposing customer e-mail data to third parties, independent adjudicators will not be used to oversee the draw process. However, evidence of the draw process and results will be preserved securely for a period of 90 days after prizes are claimed. After this period, the data will be erased. Issues concerning the draw process for any individual draw must therefore be raised before this period expires. In the event of a query, we will ask an independent person to verify the process. Please do not ask for information about individual entrants.
